DECISION AND ORDER OF THE IMMIGRATION JUDGE

Pursuant to the Notice to Appear issued Aug. 31, 2005, the respondent is charged with being removable as indicated above. The respondent, representing himself, has submitted a statement wherein he waives a personal hearing before the Immigration Judge, and admits and concedes with regard to the truthfulness of the allegations and charges contained in the Notice to Appear. The respondent has made no application for relief from removal proceedings such as would allow him to remain in the United States, but instead requests issuance of an order by the Court for his removal to his native country. A similar request has been received from the Department of Homeland Security.

There being no factual or legal issues to be resolved or in dispute and there being no request for relief from removal, or discretionary considerations to be exercised by the Court, it appears appropriate and in the best interests of justice to grant the requests of the parties. Based upon the respondent's admissions, the charges of removal are sustained by evidence that is clear, convincing and unequivocal.

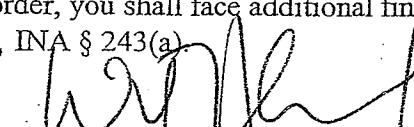

Accordingly, the following Order shall be entered:

ORDER: IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the respondent be REMOVED from the United States to MEXICO on the charges contained in the Notice to Appear.

Failure to appear for removal as ordered by the DHS may result in a $500 fine for every day you fail to comply with the order. INA § 274D. Also, if you are removable for being deportable under section 237 of the Act, and you fail to comply with your removal order, you shall face additional fines and/or imprisonment for up to 4, and in some cases 10, years, INA § 243(a).

El derecho de ser representado por un abogado u otra persona apta para representar a extranjeros en procedimientos de inmigración, sin costo alguno para el gobierno de los Estados Unidos. También se me ha dado una copia de la Lista de los Proveedores de Servicios Legales Gratuitos. Por el presente, renuncio a mi derecho de ser representado en estos procedimientos. Me representaré a mí mismo en estos procedimientos.

No deseo solicitar ningún recurso en contra de la expulsión al cual pudiese calificar.

A sabiendas y consciente de los derechos y privilegios arriba mencionados, los renuncio y abandono, y pido que mi proceso de expulsión proceda sin audiencia ante un Juez de Inmigración y que el Juez de Inmigración emita una orden basada únicamente en el acta escrita, la cual incluirá esta estipulación.

Elijo a _____ como el país designado para la expulsión.

6. I understand that, depending upon the facts and circumstances of my case, I cannot return to the United States for a minimum of ten years without special permission from the Attorney General of the United States and possibly forever. I also understand that returning without lawful permission could result in being removed from the United States and/or being prosecuted for illegal reentry which may result in punishment including a possible fine and/or imprisonment.

Comprendo que sujeto a los hechos y circunstancias de mi caso, no podré regresar a los Estados Unidos por un plazo mínimo de diez años sin el permiso especial del Fiscal General de los Estados Unidos o quizás para siempre. Comprendo también que regresar sin permiso legal resultaría en el ser expulsado nuevamente de los Estados Unidos y/o enjuiciado por reingreso ilegal, lo cual podría resultar en castigos, incluyendo una posible multa y/o encarcelamiento.

7. I understand and agree that this written stipulation will be made an exhibit to the Record of the Proceedings for the Immigration Judge to consider.

Immigration Judge's June 7, 2006, order of removal. The record reveals that the respondent signed a written stipulation pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 1003.25(b). This regulation allows an Immigration Judge to enter an order of removal without a hearing if it is stipulated to by the respondent and the DHS and requires that, where the respondent is unrepresented, the Immigration Judge "must determine that the alien's Waiver is voluntary, knowing, and intelligent." Id. The Immigration Judge's decision does not address this regulatory requirement. We therefore find that a remand is warranted in this case in order to allow the Immigration Judge to make the requisite factual findings, in accordance with 8 C.F.R. § 1003.25(b), and enter a new decision.

Accordingly, the record is remanded to the Immigration Judge for further proceedings consistent with the foregoing opinion and the entry of a new decision.

IN REMOVAL PROCEEDINGS
APPEAL

ON BEHALF OF RESPONDENT:

Shante Smith, Esquire

The respondent appeals an Immigration Judge's September 9, 2005, order. The Department of Homeland Security (the "DHS," formerly the Immigration and Naturalization Service) has not responded to the appeal. The Immigration Judge's decision will be vacated, and the case remanded to the immigration court for further proceedings.

The respondent signed a written stipulation pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 1003.25(b). This regulation allows an Immigration Judge to enter a removal order without a hearing if it is stipulated to by the respondent and the DHS. The regulation requires that, where the respondent is unrepresented, the Immigration Judge "must determine that the alien's waiver is voluntary, knowing, and intelligent." Id. The "Decision and Order of the Immigration Judge" does not address this regulatory requirement, and we will therefore remand the case to the Immigration Judge for further consideration and necessary fact finding. We note that the respondent asserts that she did not understand that she was waiving the right to a hearing, and claims that she told the DHS officer that she had counsel.

ORDER: The Immigration Judge's order of September 9, 2005, is vacated, and the record is remanded to the Immigration Court for further proceedings consistent with this opinion.

APPLICATION: Remand

ORDER:

PER CURIAM. The respondent, a native and citizen of the United Kingdom, has appealed an Immigration Judge's August 17, 2006, order of removal.<sup>[FN1]</sup> The record reveals that the respondent signed a written stipulation pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 1003.25(b). This regulation allows an Immigration Judge to enter an order of removal without a hearing if it is stipulated to by the respondent and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and requires that, where the respondent is unrepresented, the Immigration Judge "must determine that the alien's waiver is voluntary, knowing, and intelligent." Id. At the bottom of the stipulated removal document, the Immigration Judge indicated that the written stipulations were signed by the parties in the Immigration Judge's presence and that the respondent's waiver of appeal was determined to be voluntary, knowing, and intelligent. We find that this signed and typed statement by the Immigration Judge satisfies the requirements of 8 C.F.R. § 1003.25(b). We therefore find that the respondent has waived appeal. The respondent has made no argument on appeal that the decision to waive appeal was not a knowing and intelligent one. Thus, the Immigration Judge's decision became administratively final upon the respondent's waiver of the right to appeal, and the Board lacks jurisdiction over this case. See Matter of Shih, 20 I&N Dec. 697 (BIA 1993). Accordingly, the appeal is dismissed and the record is returned to the Immigration Court without further Board action.

&lt;Signature&gt;

FOR THE BOARD

FN1. The record shows that a motion to appear telephonically submitted by present counsel for the respondent was rejected by the Oakdale Immigration Court on August 16, 2006, because it was unaccompanied by a completed Notice of Appearance as Attorney before the Immigration Judge (Form EOIR-28) as required by long-standing regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 1292.4. The respondent has provided no evidence with his appeal which shows that counsel had, in fact, submitted a Form EOIR-28 with the rejected motion or at any time to the Oakdale Immigration Court. We further note that the respondent does not dispute the statements of the DHS in its appellate brief that the respondent did not inform the Oakdale Immigration Judge at his August 17, 2006, hearing that he had counsel.

EDWARD F. SHEA, District Judge.

*1 On August 25, 2006, Defendant Jorge Vasquez-Villegas moved the Court to dismiss the Indictment filed against him on May 23, 2006. (Ct.Rec.32.) Defendant asserts his underlying deportation did not comport with due process and he suffered prejudice as a result of such defect. (Ct. Rec. 34 at 3.) In its response, the Government does not object to Defendant's motion. (Ct.Rec.35.) As explained below, the Court grants Defendant's motion.

In the indictment, the Government alleges that on or about April 8, 2006, Defendant was deported and removed from the United States. (Ct.Rec.1.) Subsequently, the Government alleges that on or about May 15, 2006, Defendant was found in Franklin County, in the Eastern District of Washington. Id. Through this motion, Defendant asserts his original deportation proceeding failed to comport with due process. (Ct.Rec.34.) In a prosecution for reentry by a removed alien, the defendant can succeed if he demonstrates, "(1) his due process rights were violated by defects in his underlying proceeding, and (2) he suffered prejudice as a result of the defects ." United States v. Zarate-Martinez, 133 F.3d 1194, 1197 (9th Cir.1998).

Defendant argues his original deportation proceeding was defective because it was accomplished through a proceeding that did not involve a hearing before an immigration judge (IJ) or the necessary waiver. (Ct. Rec. 34 at 4.) Under the Immigration and Nationality Act, removal proceedings may take place, "(i) in person, (ii) where agreed to by the parties, in the absence of the alien, (iii) through video conference %y(4)" 8 U.S.C. § 1229a(b)(2)(A). When a defendant proceeds without counsel and waives his right to a hearing before an IJ, the IJ must determine whether or not the waiver is "voluntary, knowing, and intelligent." 8 C.F.R. § 1003.25(b). "[W]here the record contains an inference that the petitioner is eligible for relief from deportation, 'the IJ must advise the alien of this possibility and give him the opportunity to develop the issue.' " United States v. Arrieta, 224 F.3d 1076, 1079 (9th Cir.2000) (quoting Moran-Enriquez v. INS, 884 F.2d 420, 423 (9th Cir.1989)). Defendant contends there is no evidence the IJ engaged in any fact-finding efforts to determine the validity of Defendant's waiver and that therefore the proceeding was defective. (Ct. Rec. 34 at 7.)

Defendant further argues that he was prejudiced by the defect in his hearing. Id. at 9. In order to establish prejudice, Defendant must show "that he had a 'plausible' ground for relief from deportation." Arrieta, 224 F.3d at 1079. An alien may be eligible for fast-track voluntary departure as long as he is not barred from relief due to terrorism-related activities or an aggravated felony. 8 U.S.C. § 1229c(a). In the instant case, Defendant argues that he would have been a good candidate for fast-track voluntary departure under 8 U.S.C. § 1229c, and thus could have avoided deportation had he been apprised of his rights. (Ct. Rec. 34 at 10.)

*2 In its response to Defendant's motion to dismiss, the Government acknowledges that it is unable to refute Defendant's allegations and thus does not object to Defendant's motion to dismiss. (Ct.Rec.35.) Therefore, the Court finds Defendant has demonstrated his due process rights were violated and that he was prejudiced by the violation. As such, the Court hereby grants Defendant's motion to dismiss the Indictment against Mr. Vasquez-Villegas.
